

Academic Extension
Program Review 2013-14
External Review Committee

David Grebel
Director, Extended Education
Texas Christian University

David Grebel has served as Director of Extended Education since August 1997.

David recently completed a term as president of the Association for Continuing Higher Education (ACHE). He was recognized on November 5, 2013 at the ACHE annual meeting in Lexington, KY for his work in developing a joint conference with the American Association for Adult and Continuing Education and a new mentoring program for professionals in the field of continuing education.

Anne Heinz
Associate Vice Chancellor for Outreach and Engagement and Dean of Continuing Education
Colorado–Boulder

In 1996 Anne K. Heinz was named Dean of Continuing Education and Associate Vice Chancellor of Summer Session. Heinz was appointed Associate Vice Chancellor for Outreach and Engagement in 2009 when the Office for University Outreach was established.

Anne Heinz is the dean of CU-Boulder's Division of Continuing Education and Professional Studies (CEPS), which provides quality, innovative, lifelong learning opportunities to degree and non-degree students through a wide variety of credit and noncredit programs that are offered both on and off campus, using traditional classroom and technology-enhanced delivery systems. She is also the Associate Vice Chancellor for both Summer Session and Outreach and Engagement. While Summer Session principally serves degree students on campus, Outreach and Engagement seeks to extend the university's vast resources to communities through Colorado and beyond by implementing recommendations outlined in the university's strategic plan: "Flagship 2030: Serving Colorado, Engaged in the World." As AVC for Summer Session, she has been instrumental in numerous administrative and policy changes, including the offering on online classes.

Heinz holds a bachelor's degree in journalism from Southern Illinois University and master's and doctoral degrees in administration, higher and continuing education from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. She has published numerous scholarly articles, including many on adult learning and workforce development, and has chaired and served on program evaluation committees for a variety of higher education institutions.

Academic Extension
Program Review 2013-14
External Review Committee

Chet Rzonca

Associate Provost and Dean of Continuing Education
The University of Iowa

Dr. Chet Rzonca was appointed associate provost and dean of Continuing Education in 2005 after serving as interim dean. Prior to joining the Office of the Provost, he served in the University of Iowa's College of Education as departmental executive officer of the Department of Educational Policy and Leadership Studies, where he currently holds the rank of associate professor.

He has also served as coordinator of the Higher Education Program and as director of the Program in Health Occupations. Prior to joining the University of Iowa Rzonca held appointments at various institutions of higher education and was a public school teacher in Connecticut.

Rzonca earned his bachelor's degree in industrial arts education from Central Connecticut State University in 1965 and received his master's degree in industrial arts education in 1967 from Morehead State University. He completed his doctorate in vocational-technical education at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1972.